

I like the Indiana Telephone law and feel that a Federal Law would weaken the consume protection, and just add another useless law that cannot have enough people to enforce. The current law is not broken. Hands OFF. Let the states handle this problem